

Subject: Exploring Quantum Computing Research Opportunities at MIT - Inquiry from Rudy

Dear Professor John,

I trust this email finds you in good health. My name is Rudy, and I am a recent electronics bachelor's graduate with a deep fascination for the realm of quantum computing. I am writing to express my keen interest in the pioneering research conducted at your esteemed lab in the field of quantum computing. Your lab's exceptional work, particularly in areas like [mention a specific project or achievement], has captured my attention and motivated me to explore potential opportunities for involvement. The prospect of contributing to your lab's groundbreaking endeavors is truly exciting to me. I am intrigued by the collaborative and innovative environment that your lab provides, and I am eager to contribute my skills and enthusiasm to this dynamic research space. I would greatly appreciate the chance to learn more about your ongoing projects and discuss how my background in electronics could align with your research goals. Thank you for considering my inquiry, and I look forward to the possibility of contributing to the transformative work being conducted at MIT.

Warm regards,

Rudy
